COSIMA

Do you feel best in classic rooms that are designed with sophisticated taste? Here is an example of a timeless collection of tiles made from an elegant stone in satin glazing to make it look and feel like real rock. These tiles in a bathroom give the feel of a majestic, ancient temple to find refuge and relaxation in. The texture with copper and grey veining is the right choice for very demanding customers who are searching for this type of finish as a background for skilfully selected decorative additions to produce a unique ambiance.

BREAK THE LINE

The heart of this collection is an uncommon juxtaposition of two bold stones with extremely different patterns. This breaks away from the classic trend of tile stone patter joining, and does so exquisitely. Theoretically impossible? The practice proves otherwise with a very harmonious composition. The unique frame design and the slate-like stone in a very modern fusion with the unique mineral texture offer a perfect solution for minimalist fit-out.

Do you like out-of-the-box combinations built to surprise? This is a collection for you, then. A unique marriage of fine ribbing and a heavily veined rock texture. The natural polished rock spots are made with a glossy ink and enhanced with stripes. A dedicated line of flooring tiles complements the collection. If you are looking for a more traditional combination, go ahead with wood-textured tiles.

Wallpapers are a regular feature in various indoor design trends. People choose wallpapers because of the warm, homey effect they produce, and their all-round use in virtually all possible settings and styles. This collection is overarched by a rug-like pattern in shades of blue, beige, and brown. They blend perfectly with both cooler and warmer colours. The collection also includes dedicated flooring tiles in the theme of their wall-mounted counterparts.

CONCRETE SEA

Do you love the beauty and down-to-earth practicality of indoor concrete surfaces? This collection is just perfect for those who prefer simple trends. Classic and somewhat raw in its pure form, this collection highlights the unique nature of concrete with matt glazing. Here, the pattern of sea waves delivers a perfect closure to the design. There is a definite structure comprising two separate surfaces: the smooth top and the inner texture coated with a reflective material to flesh out the depth.

FROZEN LAKE

Every bathroom is a realm dominated by water. Why not pay tribute to water with a collection of tiles directly inspired by the irregular texture of a frozen lake? Subtle breaks, soft lines, and a careful application of satin glazing provide a very refined design both in direct sunlight and purposeful artificial illumination. The tiles in this collection go very easily with all types of flooring material, including cement, stone and wood.

Looking for a classic solution with a modern take? This collection is something you will like. This is our very own twist of the traditional undulation. The microgranules produce two distinctively separate surfaces: a plain top with a structure of waves formed by fine lines underneath. Raw and refined together: worlds, seemingly separate, yet in perfect synchrony. Concrete flooring is perfect with these tiles.

A perfect collection for those who love the latest global indoor design trends which draw upon themes of nature. Dominated by deep green with a pattern of leaves straight from a tropical jungle. The collection features three types of tiles: basic white, with a glossy ink covered with a texture of large leaves; structural tiles; and plain tiles. The pattern of leaves stays clear at an angle when illuminated by sunlight or lamps. This provides a very balanced look and feel.

SELINA

Do you like to experiment with sculpting your indoor spaces with rays of light? Are you looking for a tile texture that will match your expectations for indoor illumination design? Here comes Selina, an innovative collection of tiles which is the first to feature an all-new glazing material: microgranilia with a reflective layer. This new texture resembles gentle fold marks on textile ribbons. The shine of the outer surface looks as if it is frosted and glistening in the light of the winter sun. Needless to say, the overall impact enables unlimited indoor design options.

If you need a mix to unlock the freedom of indoor design for a unique effect, there is something special for you. This is the only collection which juxtaposes classic white tiles with polished Gres with a very special texture of stone. A fluid interleave of rich, deep navy blue and brown is highlighted by white veins and has an incredible depth with a three-dimensional feel. The pattern looks like a vast expanse of deep interspace for you to enjoy at home.
